Idol Champion Laine Hardy Talks New Music, Zoom Co-Writes

American Idol champion Laine Hardy shows off his love of small towns and hometowns with his latest music. The Louisiana native recently visited with MusicRow Magazine staffers via Zoom, and offered acoustic performances of several tracks praising small-town life, such as his official radio single "Tiny Town," and "Ground I Grew Up On," a slice of hometown nostalgia that lists all the ways his small town helped mold him. Dolly Parton Teams With Tabletops Unlimited For New Lifestyle Collection

Dolly Parton has partnered with Tabletops Unlimited on a new lifestyle collection that includes dinnerware, serveware, glassware, cookware, bakeware, and more. The vast collection features a wide variety of products that range from assorted platters and bowls with delicate floral and plaid designs, to wood serving boards and chip and dip sets in shapes such as guitars and butterflies. It also features cereal bowls with quotes from Parton, wicker basket white bakers, water bottles and a tea kettle. Click here for the full article.

Jameson Rodgers lands his first No. 1 as an artist with his debut single, "Some Girls." Rodgers has two other No. 1 singles under his belt as writer with FLG's "Talk You Out Of It" and Chris Lane's "I Don't Know About You."

At the 2020 annual MusicRow Awards, Rodgers was honored with the Robert K. Oermann Discovery Artist of the Year award.

"Some Girls" was written by Michael Hardy, Jake Mitchell, and CJ Solar. It was also certified Gold by the RIAA earlier this month.

Each songwriter and artist earning No. 1 credit on the MusicRow Chart receives a MusicRow Challenge Coin. Click here to view a full list of recipients.
